Happy Holidays! from Saltance Productions

By Heidi Ford

Tis the season to be grateful!

Holidays are the perfect time to reflect on the wonderful joys of the past season while getting excited for the New Year ahead.

2008 was the first year of operation for Saltance Productions, and what a year it was...

Since incorporation, "Saltance" hosted many successful events, and educational workshops that created positive opportunities for emerging artists in our community. We are very pleased with this, as it is in alignment with our goals.

There is so much to look forward to as we continue to build upon this positive foundation.

Highlights of 2008 include: BROADWAY BOUND Spring, Summer and Fall!

Broadway Bound is an intense dance workshop where students have the opportunity to train with the world's top dance professionals.

Workshop leaders include: Travis Wall (So You Think You Can Dance), Lisa Stevens (Choreographer of Broadway's High School Musical), Stacey Martin (Broadway's Saturday Night Fever), cast members from That Dance Show, and many more talented leaders... Thank you teachers and students for a great year!

THAT DANCE SHOW* 2008, The Delta Hotel, Charlottetown

"TDS" played at the Delta in PEI this past summer and was a great success. The most rewarding part of the season was the development of the young artists who were a part of the production. They not only trained with Canada's top professionals, but gained practical and professional experience as well. Congratulations dancers!

2009 is shaping up to be an even more action packed and exciting year... stay tuned for upcoming events and workshops, and enquire about the benefits of becoming a member of Saltance Productions.

Happy Holidays! Heidi Ford
